Reflecting back on our time at Wachusett we will remember the friendships, the dances, classes, Friday night fun, and the good and bad times in between. Experiences such as senior night, homecoming, team championships, plays and so much more, are something we have all shared. Despite the loss of friends, mentors, loved ones and and tragedies we've had to face as a school and a nation, we have come closer together. Our four years at Wachusett have shaped us and the person we see in the mirror reflects this. When the times comes for us to go our separate ways, take a moment now and then to look back on the past. No matter where our live end up, remember we shared part of the journey together.

SENIOR reflections

We've come a long way in these four years and have made many memories that we will reflect back on. From freshman year with the MCAS, the first day of high school, and freshmen buff day, we have grown to rule the school. We wouldn't want to go through the four years of high school all over again but there will come a day when we'll miss them.With a great final year full of senior events and special privileges, this has been a year worth remembering.

In Loving Memory

Kyle J. Gawlik

October 31, 1983 - March 8, 1999

"To my best friend, past, present, and beyond, even though you weren't with us too long. Your life is the most precious thing we could lose."
-Pennywise

"Kyle will always remain in our hearts,
We're in the same world, just somewhat apart."
-Anonymous

reflections

Although overshadowed by the upperclassmen, these underclassmen are reflections of Wachusett's future. As they move from the dungeon to upper, better-lit halls, they become Mountaineers in the true sense of the word. They reflect their unique talents and skills to leave a lasting impression on WRHS.

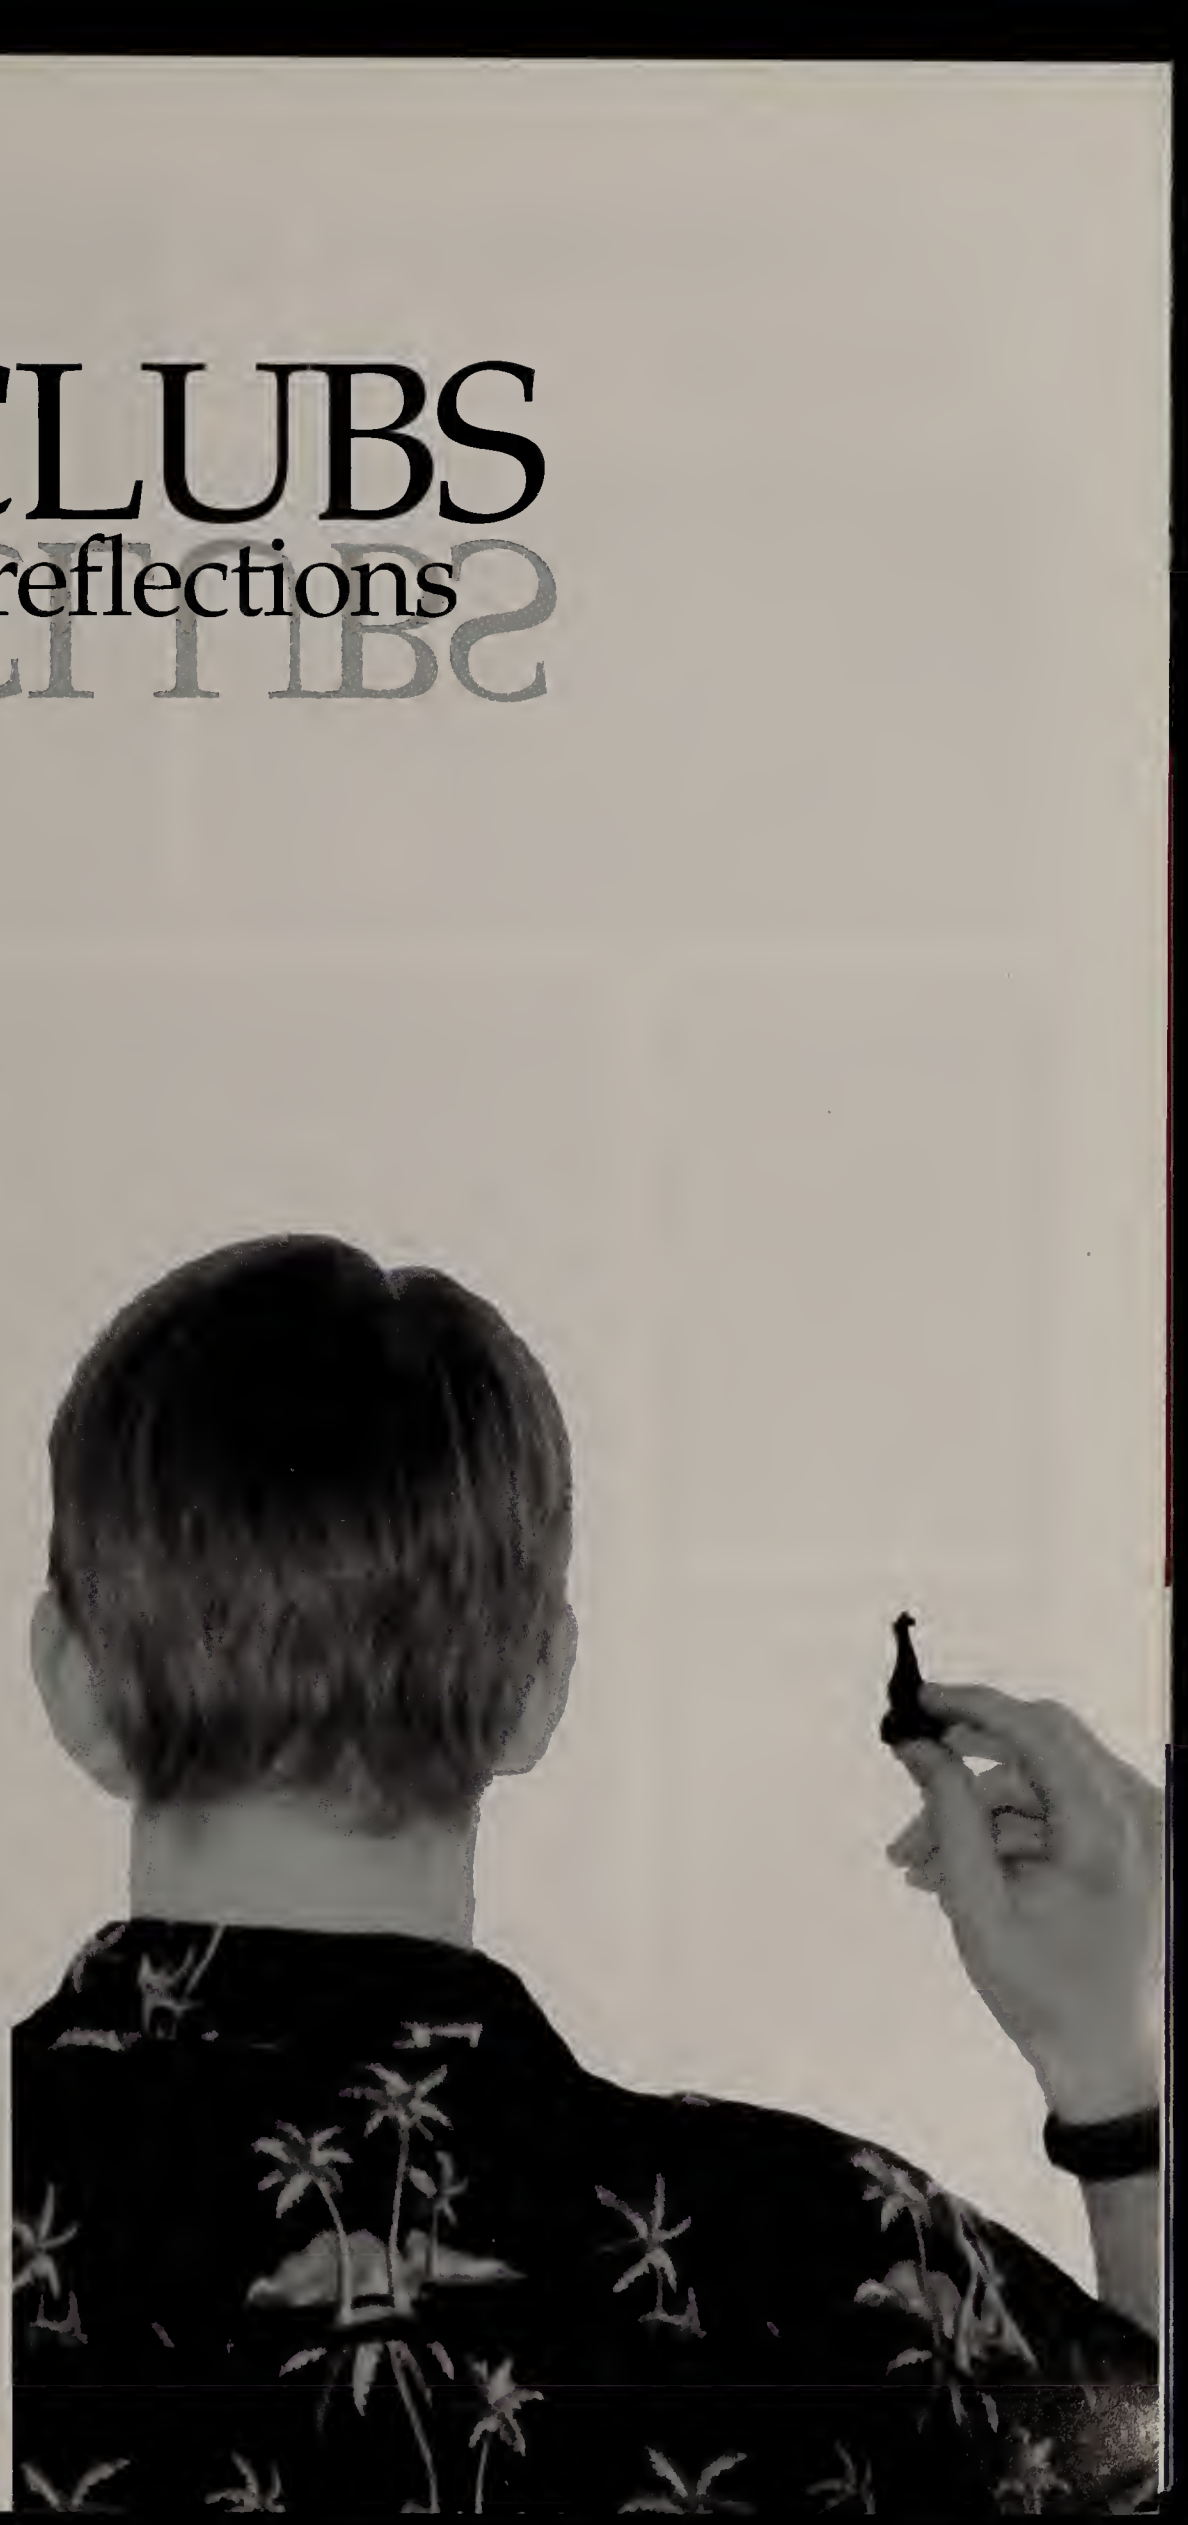
reflections

The wide variety of clubs and organizations available at Wachusett reflect students' many interests and passions. Not only is it something to do after school, being part of club offers a chance to learn something new, make friends, help others, and even put a little something on that college application. From chess to music there is a chance for everyone to get involved.



Volunteer Groups

Helping others comes naturally to some. Many of these people who wish to give join one of the many groups that lend a hand to those who need one.

Whether it's Mountaineer Volunteers, Best Buddies, and Peer Ed., groups at Wachusett that give back to the surrounding community, or Oxfam and Student Crossings, which help raise awareness about more global and national issues, students are deeply involved in helping others.It's not unusual to see students helping the elderly, hanging out with their best buddy, or raising money for a worthy cause. Being a part of these organizations is both fun and rewarding. These groups and their service reflect well on the student body here at Wachusett.

Creativity is alive in the hearts and minds of students at WRHS

Arts and Writing

Whether you're crazy about putting ink to paper to tell a story, the adrenaline rush of opening night, or creating artwork, Wachusett has the club for you. Publications keep many students running aroung trying to meet deadlines for the Echo or the Mountaineer. Then there are the drama groups that give many entertainemnt through musicals, and comedies. There are also clubs that just write for the sheer pleasure of the English language and groups that create artwork and run the Bowes Gallery, an important part of the WRHS art scene. The Media Center Club helps our school function, lending a hand in the stacks and checking out reference books for us. So if you write the books, or put them back after they've been taken out; if you create the masterpiece or create an exhibit for it; there's always a club of people willing to join you. Art is a reflection of oneself, and this expression of the soul sparks the imagination of others.

Leaders of Wachusett

True leaders do not stand in the shadows. Instead they stand in the sun and reflect its light, making our world a little brighter.

Student organizations like DECA, Model UN, and student government are a way for students at Wachusett to use their skills to lead others. DECA gives students a feel for business while Model UN teaches students diplomacy and an awareness of world issues. Additionally there is student government which allows students to experience the election process, hone their speaking skills, and change their school for the better. Also, thanks to Student Council we have great social events. In these groups we find our present and future leaders.

What do the terms "checkmate," "triple-toe loop," and the "friz" mean at WRHS?

Fun and Games

Students at Wachusett know what groups to join where fun is to be had and competition reigns supreme. They may not meet regularly, but when they get together they know how to have a good time. Many students however are missing out simply because they never knew that in our midst we have a group of girls who love the ice and a team of guys who are fiercely competitve when it comes to the sport of Ultimate Frisbee. These students also may not know that the Chess Club wins trophies that rival many of the sports teams'. The members of these organizations have found fun in places many of us never realized exisited at WRHS. They deserve recognition for all of their accomplishments, which are numerous. Members of the Frisbee Club, the Ice Skating Team, and the Chess Club will all look back on this year and find it full of images of good times whether at the field, rink or over the board.

Honor Societies

Many students at Wachusett strive for academic success . Belonging to an honor scoiety is recognition for all their hard work.

At Wachusett students are constantly striving to achieve in their studies and extracurricular activities to become well rounded indivduals. The honor societies at Wachusett showcase their successes. In the case of NHS, not only are these students recognized, they are also encouraged to give back to the community. Honor societies also exist to honor students' outstanding performances in the foreign langauges. The members of these groups mirror the best qualities found in the students at Wachusett.

The Makers of Music

Music is everywhere around us. Some of us just appreciate music but these students sing the songs and play the instruments.

The Music Department is alive and well at WRHS. Talented students stay busy with recitals, concerts, jam sessions, practices and lessons. Some students sing in numerous choruses while others bring sheets of music to life with various instruments. Many of these students will tell you that music is a way of life for them. Their dedication and effort are reflected in their award-winning performances. Best of all, through late night rehersals, trips, and concerts, students connect and form strong bonds over their shared passions.

Science Clubs

The students who belong to Science Seminar and Vernal Pool Club can answer these questions and many more. These organizations allow students who have an avid interest in science take that interest to a new level. Science Seminar is a group in which students, among other things, prepare a year long project. They spend many hours on their projects and the advisors of Science Seminar give them support and guidance. Once the projects are done, the students go on to represent Wachusett at various science fairs, often receiving awards for their ingenuity and hard work. Additionally, for students with a love for science, there is the Vernal Pool Club. Here members bring science and activism together. They study these seasonal pools and inform people about the harm that comes from building on these sites. Both groups of students take science outside of the classroom, and pursue their interests. Here we see the images of tomorrow's scientists, innovators and activists.

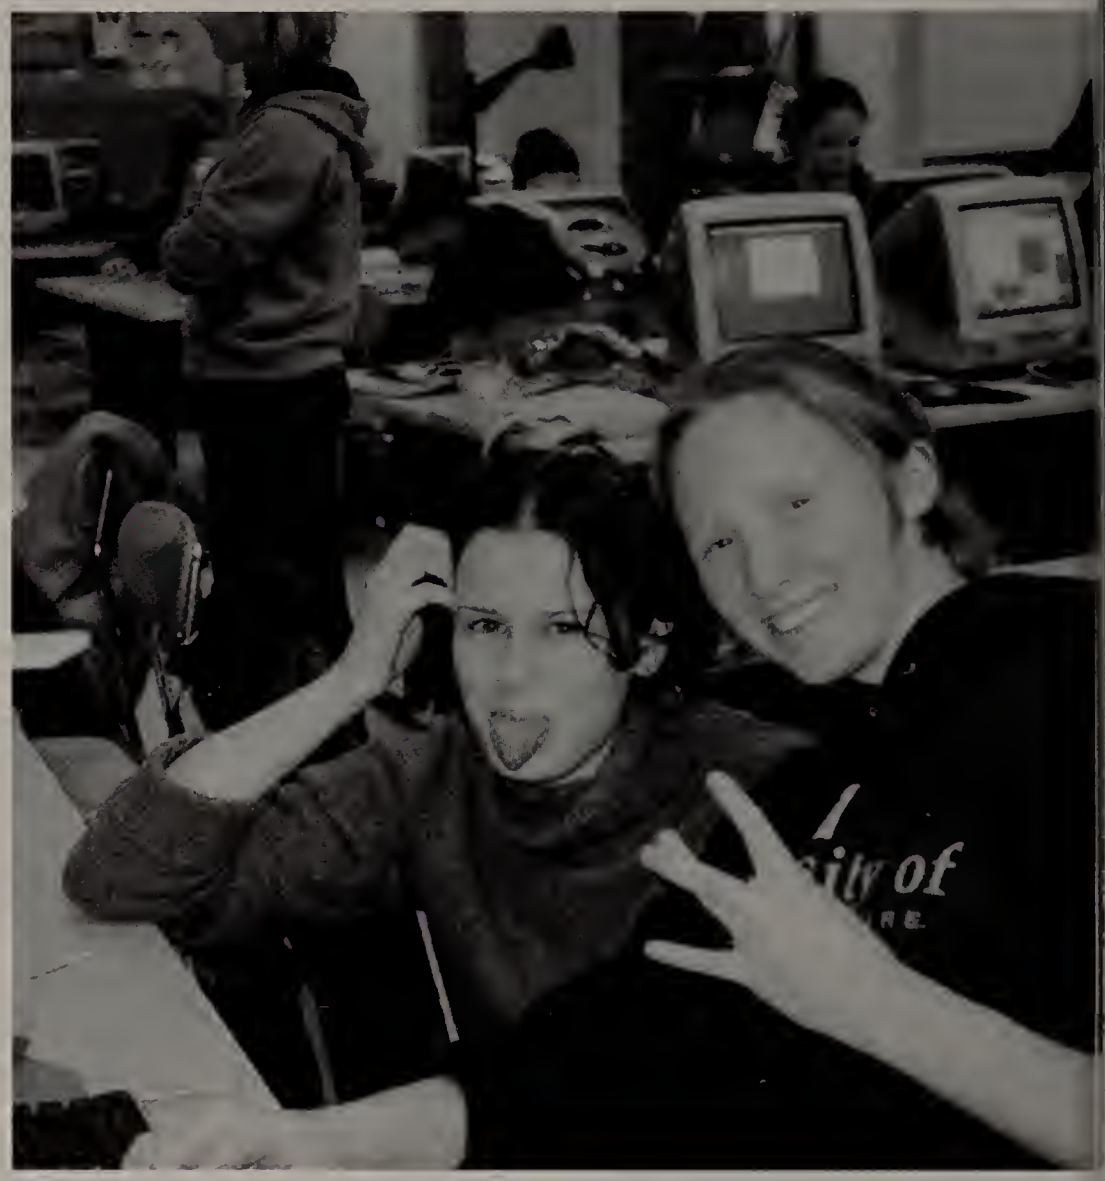
Yearbook Staff
reflections

This year's yearbook staff worked very hard to give you the best yearbook. We were very dedicated and gave up many late nights, studies, and after school hours. We were an energetic team that gave each other creative tips, lent helping hands, and managed to meet every deadline. Reflecting on the year, it has been great. We have had a lot of fun, and many laughs putting together your yearbook. We all hope that you treasure this book, and look through it when you are older to remember all the great memories we have had at Wachusett.



Kristen shows some school spirit while Deirdre shows her own kind of spirit.

Uh-oh! Amanda Kurlarski gives some attitude because someone used all the film and it's deadline time.

SPORTS
reflections

Our reflection on this year in sports would not be complete without the winning seasons, championships and players who gave their best all season long. Whether they won or lost, Wachusett's sports teams reflected glory. On the playing field and court, in the pool, on the trail and the sidelines, battles were won, bonds were formed and character built. Players and fans will not forget the efforts and accomplishments of these teams.

Captains: Steve Lynch, Greg Bradley, Glen Freeman

The Wachusett Boy's Varsity Soccer team made it through another year. Captains Gregg Bradley, Steve Lynch, and Glen Freeman, weren't as enthusiastic as in other years of the teams performance, but all in all they had a good season.

"This past fall season was definitely the oddest season I have ever had," Lynch said. "With our seven ties and our many injuries, you would think that our team morale would be very low, but it was actually the opposite."

With each individual's desire for the game and hard work ethic, the boys were able to exceed many personal goals and team goals, ultimately having a successful season. A hard working team is what we had this year from the boys. They gave everything they had at practices and during the game.

Other senior members, including, Nick Wolf, Matt Laptewicz, Dan Bernier, Dave Young, Steve Smith, Carl Harper, and Adam Katz made the season memorable. Not to forget our goalkeepers, John High and Chris Piekos, who both showed skill with their outstanding saves and blocks.

The Wachusett soccer team has many great players, but Gregg Bradley was recognized for his all-star ability being named a Central Mass All-Star and District All-Star his junior year. This year, Chris Piekos, Gregg Bradley, Matt Laptiwicz, Glen Freeman, and Steve Lynch were named League All-Stars.

Field Hockey

Captains: Liz Elbag and Meg Shaughnessy

The field hockey team finished with a successful season, strengthened and encouraged by captains Liz Elbag and Meghan Shaughnessy. They captured the League Championship, qualifying for the District Championship as the fourth seat.

Beating opponent Hudson in overtime, the girls earned their way to the quarter finals in districts and finished strong, with many stars. Seniors Jess Habin, Kristin Hervey, Meg Shaughnessy, and junior Lisa Chartier were named League All-Stars.

The seniors will never forget beating Holy Name with three secnds left on the clock, 1-0. It was the first time in four years that their opening game didn't end in a tie. Junior Lisa Chartier scored the game-winning goal.

The close-knit team got pumped for games by listenng to techno music and Aaron Carter.

Two night games were held this year against Fitchburg an d Burncoat. Both games were a success, with a victory going to Wachusett twice.

"We will always remember travelling to Milford and as we contributed a moment of silence, a line of beeping trucks past us," Liz Elbag said. "We had some real good times."

-Jess Blatt

Focused on the game, senior Julie Fisher takes her determination out to the field.

Captains: Jess Blatt, Becca Ely, Andrea Comen

Our Wachusett girls' soccer team, led by senior captains Jess Blatt, Andrea Comen, and Becca Ely, had an incredible season, and was the last team standing at the end of the season.

The girls won the League championship and went on to play in the disrtict championship as the fifth seat. Despite their record, the girls showed amazing intensity to take home the district plaque. However, the girs were not finished, and they went on to defeat Notre Dame of Hingham for the State Championship, 2-1.

The team was very close-knit and every individual was an important asset to their success, Seniors Jes Blatt, Andrea Comen, Becca Ely, Kristen Kelley, junior Mica Baillard, and sophomore Adrienne Carpenter were named League All-Stars. Andrea Comen, Becca Ely, Kristen Kelley, and Mica Baillard were crowned as Central Mass. District All-Stars. Kristen Kelley was named a State All-Star.

The most memorable moment for the girls was beating Nashoba at home field, with a score of 5-4. It set the tone for the rest of the victorious season.

"It was an amazing season," said Comen. "We are going to miss everyone and good luck next year!"

Girls Volleyball

Captains: Liz Munger, Sheree Szumylo

The Wachusett Girls Volleyball team had a great year with many achievements. Captains Liz Munger and Sheree Szumylo both agreed that the team worked hard and made a good effort. With a team record of 14-6, all Mountaineers should be proud of our Volleyball gals.

The team broke many records this in their 2001 fall season. The team beat the Marlboro volleyball team for the first time in the history of Wachusett. The team also beat Ayer twice, which happens to be one of the most difficult teams in the league to beat.

The captains had personal records of their own. Munger led the team in kills, which is explained to us as a spike that scores a point for the team. Munger has a total of over 83 spikes and Shumylo has over 60.

All together the group of Seniors on the volleyball team, including Samantha Henry, Megan Towle, Munger, Szumylo, Lisa Hastings, and Linnea Germain, all played their hardest to make their senior year really rewarding.

Team Record: 14-6

Captains: Matt Regele, Kevin Massey, Mark Peterson

Wachusett Varsity Football had a startling year. The team has had their first winning season since 1987. The captains, Matt Regele, Kevin Massey and Mark Peterson, all placed well among the league and team. Matt Regele was named MVP during the Thanksgiving game of 2000 and was named a League All-Star during this 2001 season. Kevin Massey had won the coach's award in his Junior year, 2000, and this year, 2001, he was also named one of the League's MVP's. Also, captain Mark Peterson, who had been named MVP two years in a row, 1999 and 2000, and named All-Star in the 1999 and 2000 seasons, was named this year's League MVP.

Not only did this year's football team have extrodinary preformances by their captains, fellow senior Nick Sturm was named one of the League All-Stars. Greg Falk and Mike Williams were also given Honorable Mention status.

Let's all just hope that the up coming seasons are as unpredictable as this one was.

Boys Golf

Captain: Jeff Dymek

The Wachusett boys golf team lead an impressive season, having placed first in their League Championship and fifth in their District Championship.

Captain Jeff Dymek, who was voted as the season's most valuable player his junior year, was also on this season's Wachusett All-Stars list. Dymek was named a League All- Star and Central Mass. District All-Star.

Fellow teammate, senior Paul Morgan was crowned as a Central Mass. District All-Star. Both Dymek and Morgan were on the Wachusett All-Star team and the Telegram and Gazette All-Star list.

The Wachusett team not only has All-Star seniors, but also consists of junior Dan Thorp, who was named an All-Star. Dan Thorp made the 2001-2002 All-Star list. He placed second for his individual achievement in the district match, being the only member of the team that qualified for the State match.

All of the seniors, including Mike Lindblom, Danald Watson, Paul Morgan, and Dymek, made it a great final year. Being first in their league, and a league record of 7-3 made the season even better than anticipated.

Captains Carly Holbrook, Kendra Leith, Lyndsey Shackenbach, and Cara Valari led the girls cross country team to a seventh consecutive undefeated dual meet season. They raced to victory as League Champs and district Champs and placed fifth at the State Championship.

Seniors Holbrook, Leith, Shackenbach, Valari, junior Nikki Leger, and freshman Vikki Weismann led the team as League All-Stars. Valari and Weismann were crowned as the Central Mass. District All-Stars.

Valari moved up on the school record board to third place, with a personal record time of 18:03. Leith came to 6th on the board, with a time of 18:47. Weismann, Holbrook, and Shackenbach, also earned a place on the board, gaining places 15th, 17th, and 18th, respectively.

The team credits Coach "Jake" for his inspiration and motivation. "He is awesome, and helps every individual accomplish their best," Valari said. "We are all going to miss him and the team so much."

The girls will always remember winning the Quabbin Invitational,beating Shrewsbury in a close dual meet, and becoming district champs. "We won districts our freshman year. To do it again as seniors is amazing," Leith said. "We couldn't have asked for a better group of girls to do it with."

Boys Cross Country

Captains: Mike Mailhot and Dan Sullivan

Senior captain Mike Mailhot and junior captain Dan Sullivan led this year's boys Cross Country team to cross the finish line in an undefeated season, racing all the way to the district title. They ended their undefeated dual meet season to pocket the League Championship and went on to beat the top teams in the District to be crowned as District Champs. They ran in the State Championship to place fifteenth.

Junior Dan Sullivan, sophomores Mike Banks and Tom Brown, and freshman Brian Jienke led the team as League All-Stars. The Central Mass. District All-Stars included Sullivan and Jienke.

Sullivan won the Distirct title individually with a time of 14:52. In his last home meet of the season, he gained fourth on the school record board, with a time of 15:18.9.

Sullivan credited Coach Brian Wallace for the team's success. "Wallace is the reason why we did well this season," he said. "He was a better coach mentally than physically. He really pumps us up."

Although a young team, the boys were able to pull it together to earn their victory. "Coach was really excited for this year," Mailhot said. "We thought this year was going to be a rebuilding year, but we worked hard and earned it."

The whole season was memorable for the boys, but the seniors will never forget taking home an undefeated season, the League Championship, and the District title.

Varsity Football Cheerleading

Captains: Caitlin King and Rachel Masterman

Wachusett varsity football cheerleading squad sure had something to be happy about this year. The football team did awesome, with a startling winning season.

Senior captains Caitlin King and Rachel Masterman were so excited for their team, along with fellow senior teammates Amanda Clark, Shanna Ursin, Chari Hill, Brooke Suslak, and Kim Nichols. They made it a great final year.

King commends her team for the past four years. "Thanks to all my girls and Mrs. White!" she said. "It's been a fun season, rebuilding our team. I hope we stick together and do the best we can."

The girls showed more than their best in cheers. They kept the fans pumped and the team psyched for one of the best seasons the team has had in a long time.

Although the season has ended for the seniors, they've made it a good year for the other girls to follow in their footsteps.

Wachusett's varsity hockey cheerleading had a great season. Despite a rocky start and a season that hadn't done as well as others in the past, they had a lot of fun.

Senior captains Aislinn Brooks and Leigh Persico both had great things to say about their whole team. "We all got along, and everyone was friends," Brooks said.

With fellow senior teammates Nicole Deloria, Amanda Savasta, and Kate Cavan, the team was able to show the new players what Wachusett cheerleading is all about.

Mrs. Lemire, a new coach for the girls, praised her team unquestionably.

Persico commented about the relationship of the team. "It's never felt more like a family in four years, as it did this year," she said. She sends out a secret message to all the girls she's leaving behind this year: "HHH forever!"

Both captains will never forget the game against Algonquin. The Wachusett hockey team hasn't won a game against them in years and all the girls agreed that it gave them something to literally cheer about.

Captains: Nick Sturm and David Leslie

The Wachusett wrestling team completed another victorious season. It was a tough season, with a young team. The team consisted of almost all new players and it was a great learning experience for both the veterans and rookies.

Senior captains, Nick Sturm and David Leslie led the team, and showed the new players a lot about the sport.

"It was a young team," Sturm agreed. "I look forward to seeing how they do next year."

Sturm would know all about the sport, having placed first in the division and fourth in the state. But he's not the only one to have done well this year. Leslie placed seventh in the division.

Being the only two seniors on the team, Sturm and Leslie provided exceptional leadership with their experience and made exellent role models.

Leslie and Sturm were not the only ones to make a name for themselves this year, but fellow teammate Philip Nicoli did as well. He placed fourth in the division and made League All-Star, along with Sturm.

Gymnastics

Captain: Emmanuelle Martin

This year's Wachusett gymnastics team showed us the true meaning of a "team" sport. They leaped over obstacles and came out of the season with their heads held high.

Senior captain Emanuelle Martin led the team through all their meets, with the help of fellow teammate Crystal Glynn. Both girls brought strong leadership, molding their young team for future years.

"Our team got along really well," Martin said. "Even though we didn't place overall in the season, we accomplished a lot of personal goals."

With the new members on the team learning about the sport, each year is getting better and better. Soon, Wachusett will have the potential to be one of the best teams in the league.

Martin agreed. "We are working up to being a great team. We had a lot of new girls," she explained. "We just need to work the kinks out."

With outstanding effort, the Mountaineer gymnastics team is determined to improve within the next few years and "flip" their way to victory.

This year's girl's indoor track team raced to an exceptional record, winning every championship they competed in.

The team was led by senior captains Cara Valeri, Lindsay Shackenbach, and Kristen Kelley, along with seniors Erin Adams, Becca Ely, Sarah Kieras, Liz Weaver, Julia Johns, Kendra Leith, Aidan Bradley, Carly Holbrook, Elise Parella, and Lindsay Stuffle.

"Winning Leagues, Districts and States this year was awesome, considering we lost a dual meet against Fitchburg," Valeri said.

Kelley and Leith were League All-Stars . Junior Korie Ferris and Kelley were District All-Stars.

At the State Class A meet, Ely came in first, Kelley finished second, freshman Vicki Weismann placed third , Valeri was fourth, and Ferris finished fifth.

At the All-State meet, Kelley was second, Ely finished fourth, and Valeri was fifth. At New Englands, Kelley was second and Ely was sixth.

"As the season progressed, we really came together as a team," Shackenbach said. "Our team unity and depth really came through."

Depth was the key. The 4x800 won Districts and came in a shattering second at the State Class Meet. The 4x400 team were consistent all season, winning Leagues, Districts, State Class A, and finishing fifth in both State All-Class and New Englands.

"I will never forget our pasta parties, our dances, fun breakfast, and 'battle braids'," Kelley said. "We are the champions!"

Basketball Cheerleading

Captains: Caitlin King and Brooke Suslak

The girls basketball cheering squad had a lot to cheer about this season, from the boys' season to their own competitions.

The team's captains, seniors Catlin King and Brooke Suslak, commended the girls' spirit and motivation. Other senior members on the team included Shanna Ursin, Amanda Clark, Kim Nichols, and Chari Hill.

"We competed with four girls missing," King said, acknowledging her team's hard work. "Two had food poisening, one had a 104 degree temperature, and one was away. But we stuck it out."

Along with cheering alongside the basketball team, the girls placed in a variety of competitions. They took second at Leagues and second at Districts. At the Holy Name Invitational, the girls brought home fourth.

For both captains, the games and team bonding sessions will always be remembered. They will never forget winning the Algonquin game in overtime in the first round of Districts, as well as the team Christmas Party.

Suslak left her team with a few words of advice. "Good luck next year girls," she said. "Pull together, AOATT, and squeeze!"

Captain: Dan Guerra

The Wachusett varsity hockey team's season started out with the same enthusiasm they always bring to the ice. Both our new and veteran players worked well together to make the team work hard and had fun while doing it.

The lone captain this year, Dan Guerra, led the team with the help of fellow seniors Brian White, Matt Kronopolus, Brian Henderson, and Scott Green. These veterans made it a great year for the other players.

"We worked extremely hard this year," Guerra said. "We didn't know how well we would do, but proved together that we could work hard, while constantly improving."

Many of the players on our team have been playing for a very long time, and although the season wins weren't as high as other years, they still considered it a great year. The seniors had no complaints about the year, and are all disappointed about leaving it behind.

Swimming

Captains: Beth Sundstrom and Ashley Weathersbee

The Wachcusett swim team had a very successful season this year. As a second year team, they surpassed their goals, and improved incredibly.

Senior captains Ashley Weathersbee and Beth Sundstrom led them in their tremendous year. With the help of fellow senior teammates Adrienne Altobelli, Rachel Masterman, Lindsey Beaudoin, and Eli Kesseli, they broke several school records.

Swimmers such as sophomore Meg Lynch and Maddie Mackay showed exemplary form in their swimming. McKay was a new member of the team, but never ceased to rise to the occasion and always gave Wachusett something to look forward to.

Lynch placed in the district meet, and received second place at the State meet.

This is only the second year for the Wachusett swim team, but incoming talent and enthusiasm will lead the team in years to come.

The girls basketball team netted a near perfect season, taking over the League Championship and seeding themselves first in the District tournament.

Led by senior captains Andrea Comen, Kelly Christensen, and Julie Fisher, and senior Katie Trachemoich, the team had some memorable moments.

For Christensen, it was the League Championship. "We came in first in the league," she said. "We haven't done that in a while."

Fisher agreed. "Making it into Districts, especially as first seed, is always the best," she said.

The team was led by Comen and junior Meghan Depatsy, who were named League All-Stars.

The girls' hard work and determination paid off as they were crowned League Champions and walked into Districts looking to bring home the title. They put up a fight and made it to the semi-finals, where they were defeated in a tough game against North Middlesex.

From beginning to end, the girls' motivation carried them to a victorious and memorable season.

Boys Track and Field

Captains: Dan Sullivan, Matt Regele, Mike Mailhot

These runners were determined from start to finish to compete in the best way they could, and to have fun while doing it.

Senior captains Mike Maillhot and Matt Regele and junior captain Dan Sullivan led the team to a victorious season. Other senior leaders were Dave Brooks, Ian Peck, Matt Richardson, Todd Shayler, Kevin Fox, Josh Nowak, Nick Wolf, Mike Sullivan, and Eric Rudman.

Throughout the season, junior Sullivan and senior Mike Sullivan captured all-star titles. At the League meet, Dan Sullivan won the two mile and Mike Sullivan won the the high jump. Dan was District champion in the two mile. At the State Class A meet, Mike finished second in the high jump. Dan took fifth in the two mile in a personal best time of 9:46.

The team beat top competitors to win the League Championship and placed third at Districts.

"Being the underdogs, it was great to be League Champions," Dan said, as he gave compliments to his coach, Brian Wallace. "Wallace equals a great man."

Maillhot agreed, remembering the different "stunts" the team would pull. "Remember the snowman building in the middle of the road, 'fish, fish, fish . . . '; games of all sorts!" he said.

For Regele, the team had some unforgettable times. "Never forget basketball before practice," he said. "It was great being part of our slightly strange team."

This was no doubt a rebuilding year for the boys, and will always be a year of memories and fun times . . . things that describe what track is truly about.

This season's boys basketball team worked hard all season and got the crowd pumped with their close victories.

The boys were led by captains senior Jon Ethier and junior Brian Nelson, along with seniors Jamie Hadley, Adam O'Malley, Mark Williams, and Mike Lacilla.

Both captains, Ethier and Nelson, worked hard to be crowned League All-Stars.

For both captains, the most memorable moment was in the District tournament. "Beating Algonquin in overtime in the first round of districts was awesome," Nelson said. "We won 59-51."

The games at St. Johns proved just as memorable, and students and faculty would always rush to those games to cheer on the Wachusett boys.

Nelson commends the fans, with high hopes for next season. "The coaching staff was very supportive," he said. "It was a good season and we all hope we can bring home the district title next year."

Missing: Melissa Cox

This year's softball team had an incredible season with a lot of laughs, both on and off the field. The girls were led by senior tri-captains Melissa Cox, Kelly Christensen, and Christie Reynolds, and fellow seniors Ashley Mowatt and Heather Pope.

Through all four years, the seniors will never forget their best moments. "Don't forget Kelly eating a worm before the big game junior year, the dead fish that was our mascot sophomore year beating Milford in extra innings junior year, and upsetting St. Peter Marian both freshman and sophomore years," noted Cox.

Of course, the team will never forget junior Korie Ferris making a sacrifice for the game when she dislocated her knee.

All the girls give credit to their coach, Jen Burton, who enjoys saying "What up G!" She is full of encouragement and enthusiasm for her team.

This season was dedicated to Phanessa Fisher, a past softball player who dedicated her life to Wachusett. The girls wore her number 15 on ther visors and black arm bands for public remembrance.

Girls Track

Captains: Katie Trachemoicz, Lindsay Schackenbach, Kristen Kelley
Missing: Cara Valeri

This season's girls track team led a first-time undefeated season and were able to crown themselves District Champs. Their victories were not the only moments to remember, however; these girls' games and traditions surpassed any first place finish.

The team was led by senior captains Kristen Kelley, Cara Valeri, Lindsay Schackenbach, and Katie Trachemoicz, along with senior teammates Julie Fisher, Sarah Kieras, Emily Winacoo, Lindsay Stuffle, Carly Holbrook, and Kendra Leith.

"The pasta parties, McCarthy's Nook, 'Ain't No Mountain High Enough' . . ." Kelley remembered. "All of our smiles and laughs . . . I will never forget these girls."

Schackenbach commented on the teamness of each of their competitions. "Winning District relays was a great experience because it's the first time Wachusett has won it and because it was a real team meet."

The girls brought home a district plaque and multiple all-stars. District class winners included sophomore Meghan Lynch in the javelin, Leith in the mile, Valeri in the two mile, Kelley in the 400, and the 4 x 800 and 4 x 400 relay teams.

Despite the plaques and awards, the girls had the most fun while they were together. "Never forget shaking hands with Algonquin . . . and free stretch!" Trachemoicz said.

Team Record: 7-0

"This was a tremendous season . . . we were undefeated, which means we beat Shrewsbury for the first time ever. This year's group of seniors made it all possible."

- Coach Lucy Banks

"My players gave me a lot to be proud of, particularly as I watched them develop and learn the skills and strategies of volleyball as the season progressed. The stuck by each other even in the most difficult times, playing the game the way it was meant to be played: as a team."

Captains: Matt Laptewicz and Carl Harper

Wachusett's boys volleyball team is a small team with a big bite. Senior captains Carl Harper and Matt Laptewicz, with seniors Ed Gaudette, Dan Bernier, and Ben Rosenfeld, led the team in a great season.

With the help of outstanding players, such as offensive players junior Pat Murphy, junior Alex Fernaza, and Bernier, defensive players junior Will Salter, Harper and Laptewicz have a great team to work with.

"With this years talent and comraderie, we can make the gym as electric as the years before," said Harper. With the "comraderie" that Harper talks about, the team was able to beat Milford 17-15 when they had never even scored a 10 against them before.

Harper isn't the only one with memories of the team.

"We don't get enough respect," said Laptewicz. "I wish more people would come to our games."

The hope for more people to gain interest gives the team reason to work 110 percent more.

Girls Tennis

Captains: Amanda Eckhardt and Caroline Steele

Girl's Tennis at Wachusett has lifted to a new height in the past few years. All the girls on the team are so enthusiastic about playing the game. Senior captains Amanda Eckhardt and Caroline Steele, with seniors Katie Cavan and Kirstin Johnson, have led the team to a great season.

Eckhardt and Steele have some really talented players to help their job as captains a little easier. Future stars include juniors Kelly Fraser, Bergen Washburn, Meredith Iszlai, and Julie Anderson.

"We had a great season and we worked really hard," Eckhardt said. "We became such an awsome sisterhood."

Fellow captain Steele, agreed. "I'm going to have a hard time next year without this great group of girls," she said.

With a team as great as this, we can only expect wonderful things next year.

Captains: Steve Smith and Steve Lynch

Wachusett has a first year varsity lacrosse team, and our school has proven itself again.

Senior captains Steve Lynch and Steve Smith led the team, along with seniors Justin Chivalo, Chris Piekos, Zach Siarkos, Nick Guimette, Jon Chivalo, Kevin Massey, and Eric Jackson, to create an outstanding team.

Lynch had only good things to say about the team. "We've come a long way and we are getting more respect than the older teams," he said. "We are the newest team in our league, but we are second in the league."

The leading scorers were Piekos with 61 points, Smith with 54 points, and Justin Chivalo with 33 points.

The team consisted of a variety of all-stars. Smith (attack) was honored with the first team, Piekos (attack) and Justin Chivalo (midfield) were honored with the second team.. Juniors Bobby Hatstat and Mike Faucher recieved honorable mention.

The team showed real comradery, both on and off the field. The seniors will never forget the fond memories of the team after practices, especially the team's wrestling match. Of course, the memories on the field are also special, especially when the team played at Foley Stadium against Worcester's team.

The team had a great year and the senior players will be missed, but there will be many more great seniors to come considering how the team looks now.

Baseball

Captains: Ben Duskoci and Chris Depasse

This year's baseball team played a great season. Captains senior Chris Depasse and junior Ben Doskocil used all their effort to make the team what it is today, along with senior members Mark Williams, Joe Palumbo, and Mike Williams.

Depasse, who plays short stop, and Doskocil, who is a pitcher and plays center field, are outstanding players, but certainly have a lot of help. Mark Williams, Palumbo, Mike Williams, and sophomore Chris Gusha are all able to hold their own against all their opponents.

"The team had a slow start, but we improved so much," Depasse said. "This team has made my senior year great!"

Depasse said he could not choose his favorite memorable moment. "I have had so many great experiences over the past few years that I can't think of one really great one," he said.

This baseball team really knew how to show off their skills, and Wachusett definitely saw the results of their hard work.

This season's boys track team led an amazing season, winning their League and District Class meets.

The team was led by senior captains Matt Regele and Tim Lefave, along with senior teammates Ian Peck, Nick Wolf, Dave Brooks, Kevin Fox, Eric Rudman, Mike Mailhot, Greg Bradley, Jason Mott, Mike Sullivan, Adam Richardson, and Todd Shayler.

The captains and seniors have multiple memories that will stay with them for years to come.

"Never forget NHL forever!" said Sullivan.

The boys brought home a district plaque and multiple all-stars as well. Seniors Greg Bradley, Mike Sullivan, Tim Lefave, and juniors Dan Frechette, Matt Garbeka, Alex Panoglatidis, Matt Redmon, and Dan Sullivan were named League All-Stars.

Sullivan won the two mile at the District class meet to help the team win. Sullivan also won the two mile in the District all-class meet.

Despite their undoubtedly successful season, the boys will always cherish the fun memories on the track

For Regele, it was the team's toughness that showed in their meets. "I will never forget freezing in the rain in Leominster," he said.

Sullivan agreed, and added that the team unity really was key to their success. "It was awesome being the underdogs and beating St. Johns at the District class meet," he said.

Girls Golf

Captains: Meghan Dunphy and Meg Moynahan

The girls golf team sunk a near perfect season.

The girls were led by senior captain Meg Moynahan and junior captain Meg Dunphy, along with fellow senior Caitlin Smith.

The captains credit the team and their coach for their successful season, and will always remember the fun times they had this year.

"We love to play games, especially seeing how many goldfish we can put in our mouths," Dunphy said with a laugh. "Meg Moynahan has the record with seventy!"

The girls participated in many M.I.A.A. tournaments. The tournaments were both individually- and team-oriented.

Moynahan and Dunphy travelled to many different competitions, where they competed against multiple golfers from all over the state. Both girls commend the great experience as an opportunity to improve their skills.

The team really stepped up and Wachusett can expect even more excellent things next year.

Boys tennis at Wachusett has started young, but is continuing to grow for years to come.

All of the boys' effort and composure is shown in their practices and matches. Their enthusiasm has never ceased and coach Tony Bursett is very excited for the team in the future.

"The tennis program at Wachusett is fairly new," said Bursett. "But in a few years, we should be top in the league."

Since the team was so young, Bursett chose not to have captains, but worked together for the leadership. Everyone on the team helped make the season memorable and made every moment count.

With the growing leadership, rising improvements, and the boys' willingness to never give up, a League championshp is not far to come.

Girls Lacrosse

Captains: Lisa Hastings and Ali Horeonopolis

The second-year girls lacrosse team had a great season, improving with every game. These "chicks with sticks" had a lot of smiles, laughs, and memories.

Captains Ali Horeonopolis and Lisa Hastings led the team to their victories, along with seniors Mauve Royce, Shannon Lee, Lisa Crowley, and Laura McNally.

This year's team made the memories count. Seniors will always remember Brianna forgetting her shorts at a game and Moe getting hit in the eye with the ball one week before junior prom. Also, the team is urged never to forget Ali, Laura, Lisa, and Shannon having to drive to a game and as they passed the bus, they were waving to the whole team.

Horeonopolis noted the memories. "If the hair on your arms sticks up, drop your stick and duck," she warned. "Never forget Deep Throat Moe!"

There is no doubt that these girls had a lot of fun, both on and off the field. No memory will be forgotten by these girls, senior or not.

Without the support Wachusett has recieved over the years, the sports programs would have not excelled as they have today. Many thanks need to be given to Rich Lewis, the athletic director, the Booster Club for all of their financial support, the parents for cheering on the athletes, and the coaches, whose love and enthusiasm for sports have inspired student-athletes. Lastly, thanks to the athletes, whose effort and participation will never be forgotten . . . you have made Wachusett proud.

STUDENT LIFE
reflections

Reflections of high school are not only of what we did while we were in school but the fun we had outside of the school day. When we reflect back not only will we remember dances, the Homecoming parade, and the Volleyball Marathon, we will remember everyday events as well. Details like how we get to school, our reactions to September 11th, and what it was like to have a younger sibling at the Wach, are all reflections that make up Student Life.

It's hard to believe that it's been four years since we walked through the doors of Wachusett. Through the years we've made friends, made floats, and made memories we won't soon forget. Freshman year our class was a Popcorn Popper and we took second place, we took first place sophomore year with our Nifty Fifties float, junior year we came in fourth with our Blue Lagoon, and senior year we took Second again with the Emerald City. Sarah Steinhardt reflected on the years,"I've met some of the best people and had some of the best times during my four years at WRHS." Jessica Stacey agrees, "Because of all of the friends I have made, I had so much fun during my high school years and I couldn't have done it without each and every single person in our class." Through the years here we have become more than just a class, we've become like a family. We've helped each other through good and bad times and now we move on. No matter where we end up in the coming years we'll always have each other and we'll never stop reflecting on the last four years.

"Another turning point a fork stuck in the road.Time grabs you by the wrist, directs you where to go. So make the best of this test and don't ask why. It's not a question but a lesson learned in time.
It's something unpredictible yet in the end it's right. I hope you had the time of you life."

- Ashley Weathersbee

"You can't go wrong with a Prom at the Zoo."

- Brian Silver

"The best part of Prom was that it was at the Ecotarium. Even if you got tired of dancing there was so much else to do and see. It's a great memory."

Junior Prom was held at the Ecotarium in Worcester. The theme was "A Night Under the Stars." Attendants were pleasantly surprised by the wonderful dinner, a fun filled train ride, and a romantic night of dancing. The museum was open all night so there was something for everyone to do. The roof was used as a dining room so we could all enjoy our dinner "under the stars." Upon a short walk around the grounds you could check out the many exhibits and animals on display. Many people enjoyed taking a short trip on the train, while others danced the night away. Several couples came in limos, while others choose to drive. Towards the end of the night the Prom Court was decided. Roni Percia, Sheree Szumilo, and Stephanie Johnson were chosen to be on the female court; Brian Silver, Chris Algoo, and Adam Sjogren were placed on the male court. Kevin Massey was our king and Ashley Weathersbee was our queen. The evening was filled with fun and certainly a night to remember.

To start Homecoming off with a cheer and a yell, the pep rally took over last period on Friday. The gym was filled with green and white, faces all screaming for their cheerleaders chanting danced, the captains spoke and the band played on. One of the highlights of the rally was listening to Massey Kevin dancing rap and the cheered as Mountaineer. The classes all were announced, and for the hope of a winning homecoming record. This was a fitting conclusion to a week filled with spirit and strange costumes. Students dressed up as everything from Uncle Sam to The Green Machine to 80's rocking divas. Of course the Seniors won, proving once again that SENIORS RULE!

"Pep rally always gets everyone excited for the games and it's a great way to get everyone together to cheer on WRHS" commented senior Caitlin Smith on the Rally

Homecoming
Parade
September 29, 2001

The Homecoming parade is always a highlight of the Homecoming festivities. The theme of this year's parade was "Cities." The freshmen class decided to represent the underwater Lost City of Atlantis; the sophomore class had a star studded Hollywood; the junior class set sail down to New Orleans, and the senior class followed the Yellow Brick Road to Emerald City. For the first time in Homecoming history, the Latin Club entered a float of Rome into the competition. The Band members joined in by dressing as Mountaineers, and the cheerleaders pumped up the crowd for the upcoming game. The sophomore class's Hollywood came in first with the senior class close at their heels in second.

The First Semiformal dance of the year marks the end of Wachusett's homecoming events. Ridiculous outfits from spirit week have been replaced by elegant dresses and button-down shirts. The same gym which had held screaming students little more than a day ago now clamors with popular music and bursts with dancing bodies. Saturday night, after all the games have been played and won, is the time for a final celebration. The remains of the floats sit in the corners of the gym reminding all of the events earlier in the day. The gym is packed with students dancing and talking over the music, all of them enjoying themselves in the crowded, heated space. During the night the kings and queens were crowned, Freshman Erin McDavitt and Rafiel Nyakako, Sophomore Ali Frechette and Kevin Brisebois, Junior Onalie Sotak and Robbie Little and the Seniors Steve Lynch and Julie Fisher. The week ended on a high note as students danced away the week's festivities and prepared for a spirited school year.

Senior, Kirsten Johnson strikes a pose. "Homecoming was so much fun! I danced all night."

Reflections Of An

September 11,2001 changed our lives forever. Not only did the violent acts of terror bring America together but it brought Wachusett together as well. The Student Council put together a very thoughtful remembrance ceremony that helped the whole school deal with the tragedy. Religious leaders from around the community came to help the students out as best they could, and students made speeches on their reactions to the tragedy. In an effort to raise money for the children of the victims, Student Council organized an 11 mile walk for unity. The walk started out at Wachusett and ended with a reception at Wachusett Mountain. Through donations and sponsors they raised over $15,000 for the fund. "The walk for Unity and the ceremony Wachusett Re-members were great ways to bring the whole school together to grieve and move on," said junior Ashley Smith. The horrible event changed our lives, yet it was nice to know we were all there for each other and our community in our time of need.

"I will not forget the wound to our country and those who inflicted it. I will not yield, I will not rest, I will not relent in waging this struggle for freedom and security for the American people."

We've all seen the flyers around school, perhaps some of us have even made our way out to see them sometime. Wachusett's halls are filled with several talented students who head their own bands. They write their music and play others' music, yet they generally just have a great time. They've played at school events, town events and anywhere they could get a gig. Perhaps [illegible] their names in lights and we [illegible]. Afterall many popular bands [illegible] playing local high school sh[illegible] break. The annual Winter Carnival was held at the Centrum on March 2, 2002. The Kings and Queens were nominated from each class for the very first time. Bergen Washburn and Dave Tinsley became the majesties of the freshman class, while the royalty of the sophomores were Megan Creedan and Chris Belcher. As the nominations continued, Matt Martin and Jill Orchiuch were awarded the title of King and Queen of the junior class, ending with Ashley Weathersbee and Mark Peterson being crowned for the senior class. The offical court song was "What a Wonderful World" by Louis Armstrong.

Throughout the night the students were able to take professional pictures with friends and enjoy all kinds of different music. Student Council as usual provided the decorations and a few extra special surprises such as blow up microphones and guitars. Freshman enjoyed their first time at the Centrum for a semi while seniors clung to their last. All in all, the night was memorable and enjoyed by everyone.

The Fifty Day Party is a time when the seniors gather together and reminisce on times gone by. "Can you believe that we've come so far and only have 50 days left?" seemed to be the sentiment of the night. The class officers and advisors did a wonderful job of putting the whole night together. They had a money pit where we had 30 seconds to catch as many bills and win a prize, a temporary tattoo artist on hand, a DJ, a fuse ball table, an air hockey table and all the arts and crafts and neccessary to make a number for the count-down in the cafeteria. It was a great turnout and all who were there looked as if they had a wonderful time. It was a great night to celebrate being a senior and only having 50 days left while the rest of the school had many more.

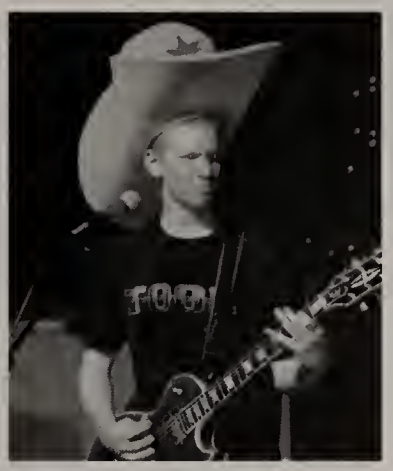
In April, the efforts of coordinators Kim Nobrega and Brian Silver paid off; the Second Annual Cowabunga Show was held in the school's auditorium. All proceeds from the event went to the Brian Atlas Scholarship Fund, in memory of the late teacher and mentor Brian Atlas who inspired the first Cowabunga show last year. Seven bands were featured: Rizen, Virtue, Double Helix, Feedback, Crestfallen, Jzozloxtolic, and Likwid. Each band played a variety of different music. They performed songs of original and also their own covers of more prominent songs. The genre of music ranged from punk to metal to classic rock to alternative. The crowd of students displayed their enthusiasm for the energetic and talented bands.



" It was great that we got to perform our music, while at the same time raising money for an important cause."

The Man Who Came to Dinner is a wacky comedy of an intrusive radio star who "falls" on the icey steps of an unsuspecting suburban family in Masalia, Ohio. Whiteside, an outspoken radio personality, had been invited to dinner by the innocent Stanley's, whose lives are forever changed after a few months of the impaired Mr. Whiteside operating his outrageous actvities from their living room. Whiteside's secretary falls in love with the local newspaper man, deliv- ery men fly in and out with everything from pre- sents to penguins, to movie stars and in the fantastic maddness at the end, Mr. Whiteside deserves. gets what he directed the Mr. Ingalls help from show with Donegan, Mrs. of upstage, the mothers Mrs. Seger and a Fox, cated cast, to Wronski, Mr. a great show. very dedi- come up with

For most of us the alarm rings a little too early on week days, as we get up to be at school for 7:40. Typical students gobble down breakfast as they run out to catch a bus or a ride to school. We arrive at Wachusett say a quick hello to our friends and rush to our class. We survive rotating schedule and four lunches and anxiously await the bell ringing at 2:15. Then we hurry home or rush to practice, or a meeting or somewhere other than a class. Many of us have a job or two , anything to afford our lifestyle on the week-end. When the bell rings Friday we run out the door to a movie, a party, or someplace to let loose after our stressful week. During the week rush home we try to an occa- and watch sitcom and maybe do some home- work. That's a day in life of a typical student at the Reg.

"I usually get up at 5A.M. during the week to workout. On weekends I work at the Resevoir Motor Lodge and visit my boyfriend Howie."

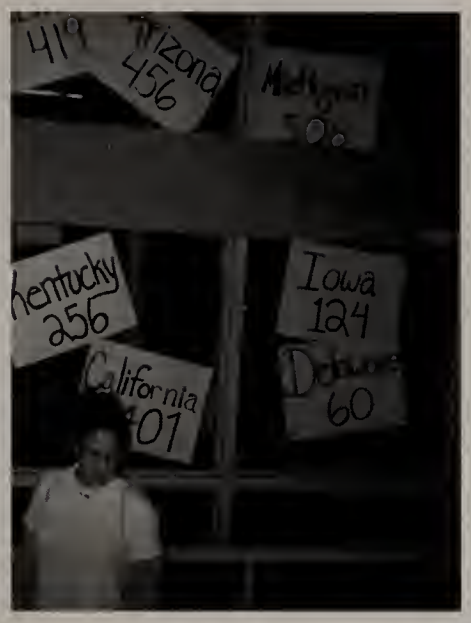
Matt Martin.



It's estimated that someone dies every 20 minutes from a drunk driving accident, This number almost doubles during the prom/graduation season. This year the students at Wachusett decided to do something about it. The student council , primarily junior Jamie O'Coin founded a SADD chapter. The friday before the junior prom was picked for a Day of the Dead. Throughout the day students were taken out of classes and brought back in a manner of mock accident. The dent was set up outside, upperclassmen walked by it to see what it's like to be on the scene of an accident. The underclassmen were given an assembly about drunk driving from an ER nurse. Students were reminded throughout the day of the dangers by a poem called silence and a motto, "Love Life, Don't Drink and Drive."

"We aren't trying to preach morals, We are just trying to show the Student Body Reality."

We come in the next morning and get treated to a breakfast of donuts and milk before going into the auditorium for a last assembly. The morning is spent sharing last minute memories. Atalmostevery table you can see students filling out their senior pictures to give to their friends as momentos of the last four years. We say goodbye to the school, our friends and classmates. It's the last time before graduation where we are all together as a class. The assembly was spent voting on a marshall and a motto, getting our caps and gowns and setting any last minute fines or dues with the media center or class officers.

Without a dream, a desire, a purpose, life is but a shallow empty husk; so, how do we as graduates attempt to avoid this fate? We were all put on this earth with the innate ability to make a difference. I like to believe that we are predispositioned to want to have a beneficial impact on the lives of others. One has not lived until one has impacted the other. Teamwork

Memorial Day after noon, Channel 61, Fox Sports Network. Three commercials come across the screen. The first is about the Patriots, then the Celtics, and last, the 9/11 tragedy.At first you may not see what I saw, but the connection is unbelievable. In just one year, we've seen our country terrorized, witnessed a miracle when the Patriots , defied the odds to become world champions, and beheld the rebirth of dynasty in the Celtics. I believe that sports are an excellent reflection of important character traits like hard work, determination and ultimatley teamwork. If there could be a word that summed up this years events it would be teamwork. The 9/11 tragedy is a perfect example. The World Trade Center bulidings were demolished and many innocent people perished, but like my father always says: "Look for the good in every situation." Here the good was the FDNY, the NYPD and every other volunteer who helped save lives and clear the rubble. The important thing to take from these events is that with a little heart and a little teamwork your potential is endless.

Dreams

Almost four years ago we walked into the halls of Wachusett only dreaming of today. Even in the wildest of dreams we could barely imagine ourselves as the fearless, gigantic, seniors graduating, and then going to college or the workforce. Where would we have been without having been able to dream of ourselves in the seniors' shoes? After today, we have many things to dream for. Not one of us can say exactly where we will be in four years. Dream of yourself as being 21 or 22 years old. Where will you be? Dream: Maybe you will be sitting once again at commencement excercises waiting with anticipation to graduate,this time from college. Dream: maybe you will be a business woman or man. Dream: Maybe you will be on your honeymoon or in the delivery room waiting for you first child. Dream. Imagine, and dream of what lies ahead of you. Do not ever sell yourself short. Dram dreams for yourself that would make your life seem perfect, as if everything had happened exactly how it should. If you dream for something you truly want, and you work hard to achieve, you will, no doubt, be happy with your life.

Excerpts from
Katie Cavan's
Graduation Speech
Time of your life

Another turning point, a fork stuck in the road. Life grabs you by the wrist directs you where to go. It's something unpredictable yet in the end it's right, I hope you had the time of your life." Green day's song "Good Riddence, Time of your Life," explains the position we are put in today. Looking back on the last four years it's been quite a ride. Between the tests, games, and much more, we've changed a lot in four years. We are all the graduating class of 2002 and no matter where the road may take us no one can take away our graduation achievement. The diploma we will be handed in just a few moments represents everything, our triumphs, our defeats, long nights of studying, basically our whole childhood educational lives. This is our ticket. Whatever we decide to do in the coming years this ticket will help us. It's a ticket to many wonderful things, upon recieveing it we are almost immediatley thrust into the world of adulthood. This day may mark the end of an era yet it is the beginning of a journey. Take all that you have learned to help you with your journey.

Excerpts from
Sheree Szumylo's
Graduation Speech
Beyond the Lines

As Kindergarten students, our time was spent learning the basics of life: reading sharing .. napping. I can recall endless hours spent with my coloring books, shading in all of the seven dwarfs just like they were in the movie. And if I stayed within the lines of my coloring book, I was rewarded everytime with a shiny gold star. But herein is the catch. As John Mayer says, "They love to tell you to saty inside the lines, but something is better on the other side." We live in a society where innovation pays. Cell phones, CD players, and rocket ships all came from people who colored outside the metaphoric lines. Today leave WRHS with the knowledge of what has been done before us, and with the courage to do something your own way. The next step is the one that you choose to take not the one that is in front of you. The world is at you disposal. Get up and make something of yourself. As Ben Franklin said, "If you would not be forgotten as soon as you are dead and rotten,either write thing worth reading or do things worth writing." Fellow graduates, Lets have the historians write volumes about our successes. Let's go beyond the metaphoric lines.

ACADEMICS
reflections

We can't reflect on high school without taking a look back at the "business" aspect of why we are here. Thanks to our dedicated teachers with all their support and encouragement, not to mention tests, quizzes and projects, we're well prepared to move on in the world from WRHS. The lessons learned and the knowledge gained makes all the hard work worth it. However, no one complains about the occasional field trip!

Administration

Dear Class of 2002:

Your final year in high school has certainly been one to remember. I hope that your memories of your school and your classmates will be fond ones, but I can not help but believe that when you think of your senior year in high school, you will think, among other things, of the tragic events of September 11, 2001. Tumultuous historical events prompt us to remember them by where we were when they occurred. For my generation, such an event was the assassination of John F. Kennedy. Ask anyone roughly forty-five or over and they will tell you precisely where they were when they learned that our President had been shot. Moreover, they will probably also tell you how it made them feel. For many, a loss of innocence was paramount.

Similarly, most of you will always remember where you were when you heard of the attack on the World Trade Center and, for most of you, that location will be Wachusett Regional High School. I can not help but think that many of you will feel that you grew up a bit on that day and that you too felt a loss of innocence similar to one that my generation experienced so many years before. It is true that we all experienced a terrible loss this year and that the world has become a much more complicated place as a result. And while it is understandable that we lose our innocence, it is unacceptable for us to lose hope. We should take hope from the fact that our nation has responded to this tragedy by uniting in a way that I have not witnessed in my lifetime. I was proud of the response that our school community showed in the wake of September 11th, and many of your classmates were part of those efforts. Remember the tragedy, but also remember the response. Use that hopeful memory and the skills that you have developed thus far to build a great future for yourself, your community and your nation.

Good luck and best wishes to each of you.

Day in the Life of the Top Ten Teachers

Have you ever been sitting at home wondering what it was like in the day of the life of a teacher? Most haven't, but here's an interesting look at a typical day for a WRHS teacher.

Mr. Rasku is surrounded by those who are important to him, or at least those who happen to be in his classroom at the time.

Mr. Klayman proves his skill in technology showing students how to use the "machine".

As you can see, it's really tough being a teacher.

Mr. Caouette enjoys getting into his class, and being one with the students.

"Hmmm...if I wasn't a teacher, I would be a movie critic...either that or John Travolta's dancing partner."

-Mrs. Worthy

"One of the worst parts of the day is that there is not enough time in the day, especially to spend with the students individually."

-Mrs. Swidey

"I would have to say, in all my years of teaching the hardest part of my day is...long block!"

-Mr. Corriveau

"I had thought about being a broadcast journalist, or working at a radio station before I decided to teach. I am still able to communicate, just with a different crowd."

-Mr. Jourdain

According to his students, his class was always interesting and full of surprises.

-Mr. O'Connor

Mrs. Arbor is loved for her enthusiastic approach to social studies and her constantly cheery disposition.

-Mrs. Arbour

"My recipe for the perfect student is one who wears cowboy boots on Friday!"

-Mr. Baer

"I was going to be the world's greatest mining engineer, but I decided that my job had to reflect on the things that are important to me...kids!"

-Mr. Rasku

"My recipe for the perfect student is one who is curious, industrious, and motivated."

-Mr. Reynolds

"My recipe of a good student would consist of coming to class everyday prepared, willing to participate, and listening to what the teacher and classmates have to say."

-Mr. Handfield

"Mark Twain once wrote that 'Courage is resistance to fear, mastery of fear - not absence of fear.' In light of all that has happened in this past year you should strive to go forth and have the COURAGE to make a difference." - Mr. Sheppard

Sciences & Business Ed.

One is greeted with the odors of matches and dissected pigs when walking through the science hallway. WRHS science faculty offers students an enthusiastic and knowledgeable approach to science.

Business education and Family & Consumer sciences give students an introduction to possible career options. Students get a taste of life after high school whether keyboarding or cooking.

Mrs. Donelson and Mrs. Finkelstein are healthy and vibrant in their Wachuwear.

Ms. McGrady! You look groovy baby!

Science Fair

While most students in honors science were scrambling to finish their year long reports, eight students were ready to display their projects to a panel of judges for the third time. Those students were members of Science Seminar who participated in the Wachusett Science Fair. This year a record breaking number of students participated. The 12 sudents who won awards at the Wachusett Science Fair advanced to the Regional Fair at WPI on March 8. Eight of them were chosen to attend the Massachusetts State Science Fair held at MIT on May 3 and 4.

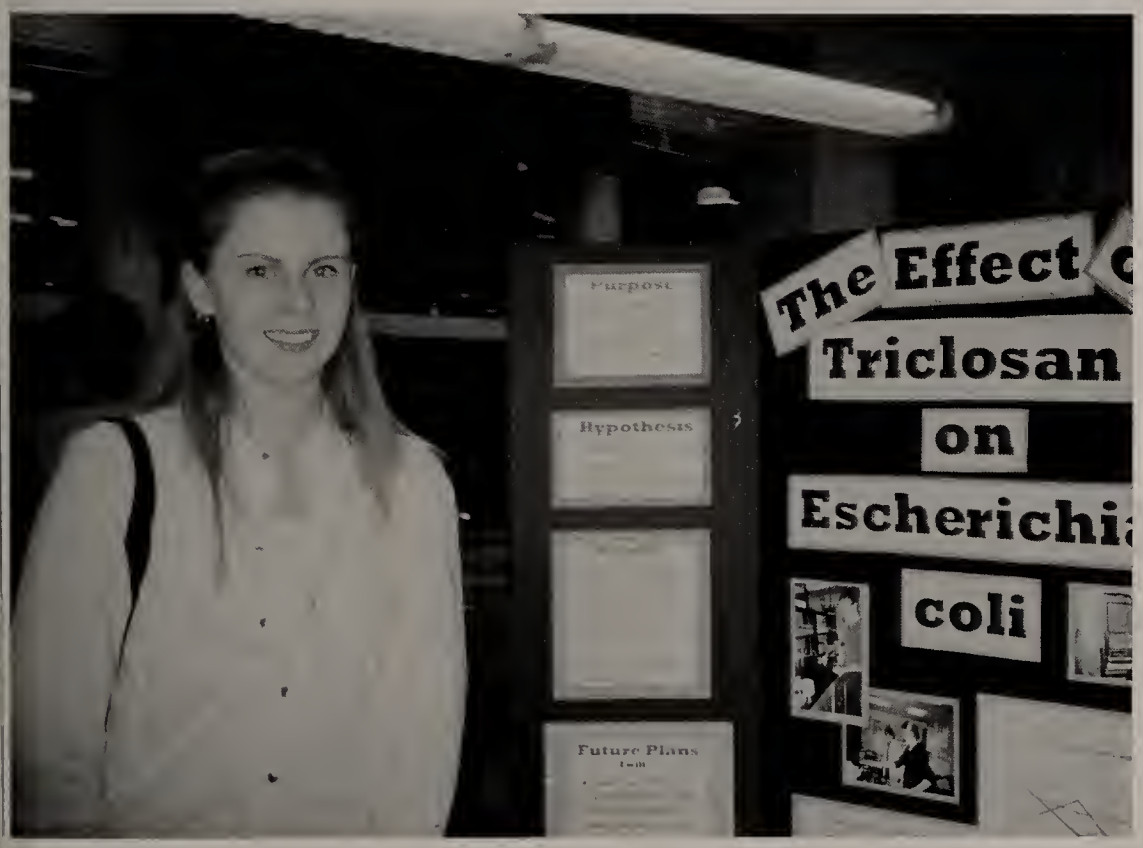
Above: Jackie Roux, a junior member of Science Seminar, can smile brightly cause she knows her project is all that!

Above: Who says only nerds love science?! Tom Crimer, Sara Winkler and Sarah Patten look pretty cool to us!



Above: Junior Elizabeth Scales stands proudly in front of her complicated project on the effect of Tri...something on Es...cherrychia...cola...or something...yeah.

English, Art & Directed Study

Both English and Art inspire us to reflect on the great works of others and create great works of our own. In the words of Jawaharlal Nehru, "The art of a people is a true mirror of their minds."
Preparing us for our futures, Directed Study helps us with creating resumes, practicing standardized testing, and looking for the perfect college.

Mr. Ingalls, or should we say "Mr. Potato Head," watches the crowd go by.

Mrs. Leschke likes to see her students' perspective by sitting in a student desk.

Math, Music & Health

Thanks to the Math Department, pi is no longer something that just goes together with milk. It prepares students for the application of math in their everyday lives.
Considered the universal language, the Music Department offers many opportunities for students to use their talents and learn about the world around them.
Encouraging students to take care of their bodies, the Health teachers cover today's issues such as AIDS and drug abuse.

Madrigal Dinner

The Music Department's Madrigal Dinner is a recreation Renaissance dinner that takes place on three nights in the St. Mary's parish hall, which is transformed into a Renaissance court. Colorful banners, a red carpet, suits of armor, and a castle wall decorate the room. At the end of the hall are seats where the king, queen and their royal guests (The Wachusett Singers) sit. Patrons are served a five course meal by the royal wenches (The Wachusett Chamber Choir). In between courses the Singers and Chamber Choir, who are dressed in period costumes, sing a variety of madrigal songs and perform a five act play. The Wind Ensemble plays enchanting music during the Elizabethian meal.

It's the last "magical" night for these seniors, but they're still all smiles.

Aww...What a royal pair they make!

The magnanimous kingdom gathers for the night's festivities.

"Madrigal Dinner has a unique atmosphere that makes it different from other Wachusett productions."
-Jennifer Weinstein (Senior)

"Madrigal takes a lot of hard work, but in the end its really worth it when you see how much the audience enjoyed it."
-Ashley Smith (Junior)

Blood Drive

In the WRHS gym, the National Honors Society spends the day supporting those who have given blood while others give their blood. NHS volunteers come in during the day and help the many people who come to donate. With chairs, mats, and tables set up, students, teachers, and others in the community come in to give blood. These people join together to give the blood of life for those who need it.

Christine Farabaugh and Swati Sharma direct others "where the blood drive at."

Eric Jackson replenishes his weak and fragile body after giving a whole lot of blood.

Is she supposed to look that color?!

"It was the bloodiest blood drive yet!"
-Todd Shayler (Blood Drive Cordinator)

Guidance, Media Center & Foreign Language

Guidance is a place you can go to work out the stresses of the day. The guidance staff continually make the college search proceed smoothly. The various books of the Media Center provide extensive knowledge to the students of WRHS. Multicultural influences are shown at WRHS through our choices of diverse languages.

National Honor Society

Naional Honors Society recognizes people who show qualities of leadership, academics, service, and character. Throughout the year, NHS performs many services and projects to help the community. The NHS blood drive is one event that is especially successful for this group of honors students. Although, it takes a lot of work to be a member of this group, NHS members always find time to have some fun too!

Erin Adams and Kendra Leith work hard collecting children's books from NHS members to donate to local elementry schools.

Josh Nowak, president of National Honor Society, and Mr. Corriveau, chosen to address the new NHS members, congratulate themselves on a job well done.

The do-gooders of Wachusett gather for another intense and exciting NHS meeting.

Ashley Weathersbee, treasurer of NHS, collects dues from junior member, Leanne Ahronian.

Abby Spencer and Swati Sharma fight for their right to paaarrrty during the NHS field trip!!

Foreign Language Induction

The French Honors Society reads an oh so French and oh so romantic poem before inducting new members.

The Foreign Language Societies at Wachusett recognize outstanding students studying foreign languages. Students are inducted into La Société Honoraire de Français (French), Delta Epsilon Phi (German), National Junior Classical League Latin Honor Society (Latin),and La Sociedad Honoraria Hispánica (Spanish).

The flame on the candles held by the Spanish Honors Society represents an eternal flame of knowledge which sparks once, but will continue to burn throughout a life time.

By taking Latin, these Honors students are not only learning the root to all Romance languages, but also increasing their verbal score on the SATs.

Special, Alternative & Technology Ed.

Understanding and benevolence are virtues taught by the Special Education Department. Alternative Ed. improves understanding in two ways: first by increasing one's knowledge, and, second, enabling one to put that knowledge to work. In the Technology Department of WRHS, we make the science of today the technology of tomorrow.

You honestly expect me to climb that?

World Travelers

The students and faculty of Wachusett are world class travelers. They've journied into the hightech world of Japan. They've roamed the cobble stone streets of England. They've "parlez voued Français" at the Eiffel Tower. And they've set foot upon ancient structures in Italy and Greece. We're a cultured bunch here at Wachusett. Even when we're having our own little "Oktober Fest" in our hotel rooms!

Social Studies & Phys. Ed

In the Social Studies department of WRHS, we reflect on the history of the world, the workings of the mind, and the world as it is today. The pages in our books come to life through the magical instruction of our great teachers. Despite the times we forget our hats and mittens for gym class, the Phys. Ed Department always gets our blood flowing with rousing physical activity.

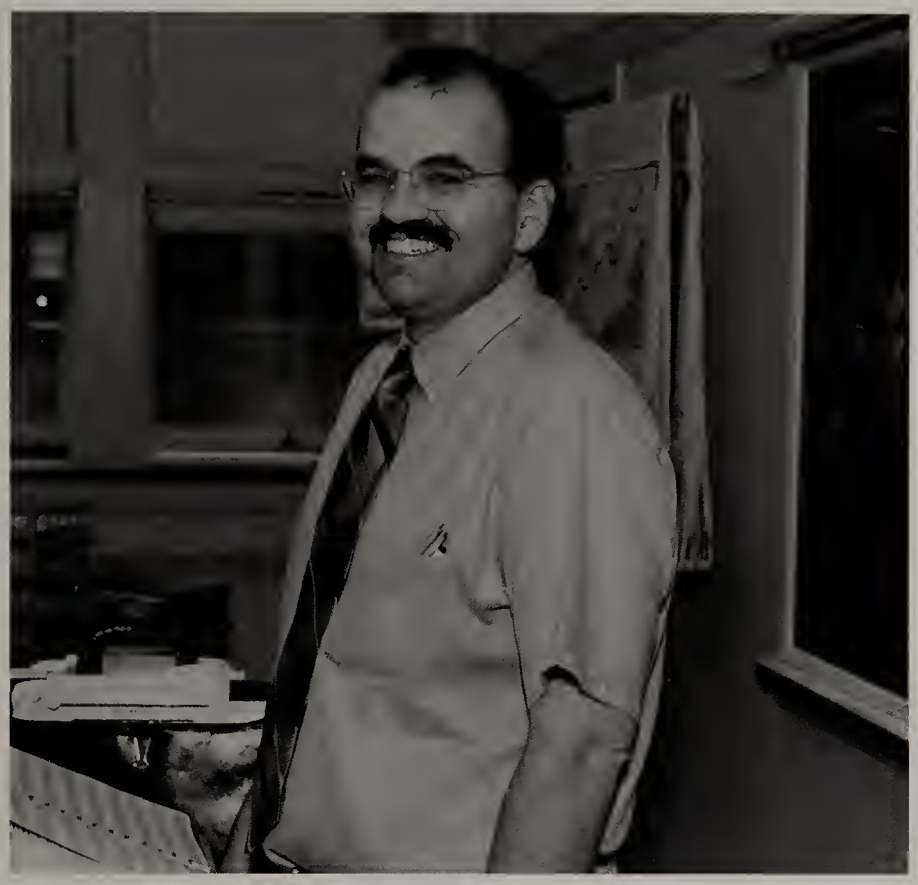
In Loving Memory

Mr. Brian N. Atlas

March 27, 1959-September 19, 2001



"Sie werden im unseren Herzen ewig weiterleben."

I'd like the memory of me
to be a happy one,
I'd like to leave an afterglow
of smiles when life is done.
I'd like to leave an echo
whispering softly down the ways,

Of happy times and laughing
times and bright and sunny days.
I'd like the tears of those who grieve, to dry before the sun
Of happy memories that I leave
When life is done.

We are extremely Proud of You!

As you begin a new chapter in your life~
Be kind to all you meet
and fair in all you do.

Pray for daily guidance to help your dreams come true.

Learn as much as you can about life and who you are.

Explore the world around you,
keep reaching for the stars.

Turn to those who love you,
and turn to heaven, too.

With faith in God and in yourself, there's nothing you can't do!

Colophon

The Mountaineer is an annual publication by the Yearbook staff at Wachusett Regional High School, 1401 Main Street, Holden, Massachusetts 01520. The towns served by the high school are Holden, Paxton, Princeton, Rutland, and Sterling. The book was distributed to the class of 2002 at a class social held in mid August of 2002.

The book was printed in Winston-Salem, North Carolina at the Jostens Publishing Division. The press run was 500 copies. The cover, endsheet, and divider pages were designed for our staff by Rick Brooks of the Creative Resources Department of Jostens. Additional art for the cover was created by Marylee Helms of the Creative Resources Department of Jostens.

Our cover is a school-designed Truelife Combo lithograph. The base material cover is High Gloss with the background of Whetstone and the addition of mix-to-match inks and an application of silver foil (#381). The litho-process cover has film lamination for protection. The trim size is 8.5 by 11 and Smythe-sewn. It is wrapped around 120-point binder's board. The school follows the Accent Program. The front and back endsheets are from the Cross Point paper Smoke Gray (#297).

The paper used throughout the book is 80 pound gloss, printed with standard black ink. Thirty-two pages were printed using the standard four color process. The font used as the major type style is Palatino. Other assorted type fonts were used at the discretion of the page editor.

A current events supplement, World Beat (produced by Jostens) has been sewn in at the end of the book after page 304 followed.

Senior portraits were taken by Wayne Myers and his associates of Myers Studio, Sterling, MA, the designated official yearbook photographer. (Other professional photographers did some of the senior portraits.) Athletics (both team and candids), clubs organizations, faculty, and major school events were photographed at no charge to the yearbook by Myers Studio. The studio also generously provided the yearbook staff with film, developing, and equipment at no additional cost. Additional athletic, event and candid photographs were taken by members of the yearbook photography staff as well as donated by various members of the class of 2002 and WRHS staff. O'Connor School Portraits photographed the underclassmen for student ID's and made these photos available to the yearbook staff at no cost.

The approximate cost of printing the book is $38,000. This figure includes publishing costs, freight charges, shipment of materials to North Carolina, color candid photography expenses (purchase of film and developing costs), and other supplies. The per copy cost to the public is $52.00 plus tax. Monies are raised through an assessment to the Senior Class per student, a parent ad and patron/sponsor solicitation campaign, and the proceeds from two soda machines in the gym corridor. These 304 pages are representative of the entire Wachusett student body and their community.

Special Thanks!!!!

As advisor to the Mountaineer it gives me great pleasure to be able to acknowledge a number of very special people without whom this book could have not been finished.

Many, many thanks go out to Wayne and Bev Myers of Myers Studio for their time and commitment. Wayne and his staff can always be counted on for professional and prompt production of the essential photographs needed throughout the book. Your time spent during your evenings and on weekends at sports banquets, proms, graduation, and the numerous extracurricular activities held throughout the year is much appreciated. As usual, you turned a crazy year into 304 pages of fun memories and even brought a few laughs along the way. It is my hope that the senior classes will continue to support Myers Studio. It is their commitment that enables us to produce a fine quality book of which both the staff and the Wachusett community can be proud.

Secondly, thanks go to Arnie Lohmann, our company representative from Jostens Publishing. In additional to technical and artistic support, Arnie is a strong moral support for our entire staff. Also from Jostens, we thank Rick Brooks, from the Creative Resources Department, for his creation of the cover, divider and endsheet designs. The brainpower and bright ideas of you two turned our jumbled summer camp ideas into a masterpiece.

A huge thanks to my right-hand-woman, Financial Advisor, Donna Bradway who once again kept me on target and the staff within budget. Donna, will you ever say "No!" to us?? Thanks you so much for all your time and effort and phone calls as well as for your organization of all the parent ads and marketing details. Your attention to detail, financial wizardry, and patience is always delivered with a smile and that has made a world of difference. There seems to be nothing you can't do!

Additional thanks go out to the many Wachusett staff members who help all year behind the scenes. First, a long over due thanks to Ed McTigue who, for several years now, has been our saving grace and Computer Wizard. I am sorry not to have thanked you earlier. Secondly, I thank the Special Ed. Department and their student workers for their constant attention to our soda machines, a major fund raiser for the book. We thank Amy Kathman, Della Ritland, Donna Laramee, Melanie Donegan and Ginny Belcher for helping us with class, staff and club lists, school activity schedules, fielding phone calls and Guidance News articles. And, as always, thank you to Maura Goddard for her help in meeting deadlines, checking proofs and this year's extra bonus - jokes to live by.

MY STAFF!!! It's the opportunity to work with young people like you that make it all worth while. This year's Editor-in -Chief, Deirdre Donahue, has literally touched every page of this book. I've never had such a dedicated editor - and you've had some steep competition. Dierdre, thank you - thank you - thank you for going the extra mile (or 1,000 miles) it took to get this book to print. Everyone brought in great ideas and YOU made them all happen without even a complaint or a frown. I feel lucky to have spent the year working with you. Our second hardest workers had to be Quinn and Kristen. Having three separate deadlines of over twenty pages each kept you two on your toes, luckily you were ready to meet the challenge. Thank you Quinn for the time you spent on other sections as well, after your own pages were completed. To Swati (our very own Gillmore Girl) and Christine (who's name I think I have finally spelled correctly), you two were great partners and you should be proud of the exciting changes made to the Academic section this year. I thank our Senior Section editors, Tracy and Caitlin - who had the biggest single deadline to meet - your vigor, caring, and just the right touch of humor created a spectacular collection of highlights of the senior class. To Kate, who seemed to struggle all the way through with photo and quote problems, thanks for sticking it out. Two additional editors who had tough jobs of their own yet managed to lend a hand to many other sections, Hailey and Kelsa, get a special thumbs up. Not to be forgotten, Amanda, our Photo editor and her small but dedicated staff. Thanks for making deadlines, picking up film and redoing shoots even at the last minute. To the Underclassmen editors, Amanda and Brittany, and PDA editors Liz and Ashley, I look forward to working with all of you next year. Extra thanks to you, Liz, for your careful attention to details in taking care of all the proofs as well. And to all the additional staff members, thanks for putting up with the orders, the changes of plans and the many personalities you worked so well with.

To the class of 2002, please know that without the hard work of the people mentioned above as well as the additional staff mentioned on pages 120-121 this yearbook would not be in your hands right now. Please take a moment to give them thanks. Years from now you will realize what all their sacrificed evenings, vacations, sleep, study halls and social lives meant. Enjoy your memories!!!

Be safe and be happy,

Lynn M. Leschke, Mountaineer Advisor

Deirdre Donahue, Editor-in-Chief: Reflections of hard work.

The last four years have meant something different to each of us. However, when we look back there are some reflections we all share. Our memories of the Wach are tinged with green and white, perfumed with the scent of stinkbombs and filled with the reverberations of lockers being slammed shut and modulars being constructed. We as a class have experienced an unique time in Wachusett's history, shadowed by the debate over its future. But we had fun which is reflected in the smiles on our faces in our prom photos, the volume of our cheers as we watched our teams win state championships, our enthusiasm for getting involved, and in this book. Wachusett will never be the same and neither will we.
